

FTSE TWSE Taiwan Dividend+ Index – Market Consultation

20 September 2022

FTSE TWSE Taiwan Dividend+ Index is a dividend yield weighted index designed to measure the daily performance of the 30 highest-yielding stocks within the universe of the FTSE TWSE Taiwan 50 and FTSE TWSE Taiwan Mid-Cap 100 indices. The index ground rules are available here: FTSE TWSE Taiwan Dividend+ Index ground rules.

While the Taiwanese equity market has benefited from an increase in the number of listed companies and corresponding market capitalisation, the top 30 dividend-yielding constituents of the index, which at the launch of the index in 2007 represented 26% of the combined full market capitalisation of the FTSE TWSE Taiwan 50 Index and FTSE TWSE Taiwan Mid-Cap 100 Index, dropped to 13.7% in August 2022 (see graphs in the consultation document).

FTSE Russell proposes to increase the number of constituents in the FTSE TWSE Taiwan Dividend+ Index from 30 to 50. FTSE Russell is consulting on this proposal and its aim of ensuring that the market capitalisation percentage representation of the FTSE TWSE Taiwan Dividend+ Index is appropriate, and both the objective of the index and index users' needs are met.

The consultation closes on Tuesday 04 October 2022 and can be accessed here: FTSE Russell market consultations.
