

Russell 3000® Index - Financials

Data as at: 29 May 2026

The Russell 3000® Financials Index measures the performance of U.S. companies classified in the Financials industry, as defined by the Industry Classification Benchmark (ICB). This includes companies operating in sectors such as Banks, Financial Services, and Insurance.

The index is float-adjusted and market capitalization-weighted. It is reconstituted annually to reflect new and growing companies and updated quarterly to incorporate industry classification changes and eligible IPOs added to the broader Russell 3000® Index.

FEATURES

Objective

The indexes are designed for the creation of index tracking funds, derivatives and as a performance benchmark.

Investability

A transparent and replicable index construction strategy.

Liquidity

Stocks in the underlying universe are screened to ensure that the index is tradable.

Transparency

The index uses a transparent, rules-based construction process. Index Methodologies are freely available on the FTSE Russell website.

Availability

The index is calculated based on price and total return methodologies, available end of day.

Industry Classification Benchmark (ICB)

ICB is a comprehensive and rules based, transparent classification methodology based on research and market trends designed to support investment solutions. It was launched in 2005 and enhanced in 2019 with the integration of the Russell Global Sectors (RGS) classification scheme and additional structural enhancements. This index transitioned to ICB on September 21, 2020, with historical data prior to that date reflecting the legacy RGS classification.
