

FTSE US Treasury STRIPS Index

Sovereign | US Dollar

The FTSE US Treasury STRIPS Index (STRIPS) measures the performance of US zero-coupon sovereign bonds. The FTSE US Treasury STRIPS represents a comprehensive selection of long-duration market sectors, offering a wider range of duration choices and can also be combined with a range of USBIG sectors if a core spread product exposure is desired. The greater choice of long-duration sectors allows investors to opt for any core holding and combine it with the appropriate STRIPS sector to reach their target durations. Sub-indices are available by maturity.

Rebalancing:	Once a month at the end of the month. The first week of each month, the Bureau of Public Debt makes available the Treasury market debt outstanding held in stripped form as of the previous month-end. These figures are used along with the current FTSE US Treasury Index profile to arrive at the amounts outstanding for the following month's STRIPS Index. For example, during the first week of January, the Bureau of Public Debt announced the amounts held in stripped form as of December 31. These amounts were applied to the February Index profile fixing and they were then fixed for the calendar month, and all interim returns were calculated based on its composition.
Reinvestment of cash flows:	Intra-month cash flows from interest and principal payments are not reinvested as part of monthly index total return calculations.
Pricing:	LSEG Pricing Service
Calculation Frequency:	Daily
Settlement Date:	Monthly – Settlement is on the last calendar day of the month. Daily – Same day settlement except if the last business day of the month is not the last calendar day of the month; then, settlement is on the last calendar day of the month.
Base Date:	December 31, 1991

* Neither an amount outstanding cut-off nor a minimum maturity screen is imposed on the FTSE US Treasury STRIPS Index. The goal is to maintain a relatively stable universe that accommodates the broadest measure of available securities. By including coupon STRIPS with less than one year remaining to maturity, the full FTSE US Treasury STRIPS Index cash flows can be replicated closely by using bonds in the FTSE US Treasury Index.

** The bond stripping of eligible monthly Treasury auctions, along with the stripping of Treasury Inflation Protected Securities, has not created a deep enough market to ensure availability to institutional investors; therefore, these STRIPS are excluded from the index
