Section 1

Introduction

1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 This document sets out the Ground Rules for the construction and management of the FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series.
- 1.2 The FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index (FFICII) is a comprehensive, broad market multi-currency index diversified across three FTSE Russell defined infrastructure sectors. The Index is designed to reflect the performance of infrastructure debt securities worldwide, including coverage of Investment-Grade and High-Yield Market across several major currencies, from both corporate and quasi-government issuers. The Index covers a broad array of sectors, and sub-indices are available in any combination of currency, maturity, sector and rating. The Index benefits from FTSE Russell's two step approach to defining "core" infrastructure, which considers both industry classification (COBS) and revenue derived from infrastructure core activities, and is aligned with the equity FTSE Core Infrastructure Index Series in both design and classification.
- 1.3 The FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series does not take account of ESG factors in its index design.
- 1.4 The base currency of the index series is US Dollars (USD). Indices may also be published in other currencies.
- 1.5 FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series

The FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series is made up of the following indices:

 - FTSE Fixed Income Global Core Infrastructure Index
 - FTSE Fixed Income Global Core Infrastructure Index – Investment-Grade
 - FTSE Fixed Income Global Core Infrastructure Index – High-Yield
 - All standard maturity, rating and sector sub-indices for each full universe, IG and HY

Customized, including capped versions of the infrastructure indices can also be created upon request.
- 1.6 FTSE's definition of infrastructure is the starting point for the design of the FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series. FTSE defines infrastructure as issuers that own, manage or operate structures or networks, which are used for the processing or movement of goods, services, information/data, people, energy and necessities from one location to another.

FTSE's definition also includes the businesses that provide the means of conveyance and the conveyance itself, not the goods or services that are carried by the conveyance. This includes both the network (e.g. roads, bridges, tunnels, pipelines, wires, wireless, depots, ports, airports, etc.) and the actual “rolling stock” that conveys the goods, services, information/data, people, energy and necessities.

- 1.7 The FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series weights constituents by market value in the index calculation.
- 1.8 Total Return Indices are published in eleven (11) calculated currencies at the end of each business day, on an unhedged and hedged basis.
- 1.9 Unless specifically detailed in this document, the methodology and management of the FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series is based on the FTSE Fixed Income Index Guide. The FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series methodology should therefore be read in conjunction with this guide, which is available on FTSE Russell’s website (www.ftserussell.com).

1.10 FTSE Russell

FTSE Russell is a trading name of FTSE International Limited, Frank Russell Company, FTSE Global Debt Capital Market Limited (and its subsidiaries FTSE Global Debt Capital Market Inc. and FTSE Fixed Income Europe Limited), FTSE Fixed Income LLC, The Yield Book Inc and Beyond Ratings.

- 1.11 FTSE Russell hereby notifies users of the index series that it is possible that circumstances, including external events beyond the control of FTSE Russell, may necessitate changes to, or the cessation of the, index series and therefore, any financial contracts or other financial instruments that reference the index series or investment funds which use the index series to measure their performance should be able to withstand, or otherwise address the possibility of changes to, or cessation of, the index series.
- 1.12 Index users who choose to follow this index or to buy products that claim to follow this index should assess the merits of the index’s rules-based methodology and take independent investment advice before investing their own or client funds. No liability whether as a result of negligence or otherwise is accepted by FTSE Russell for any losses, damages, claims and expenses suffered by any person as a result of:
 - any reliance on these Ground Rules, and/or
 - any errors or inaccuracies in these Ground Rules, and/or
 - any non-application or misapplication of the policies or procedures described in these Ground Rules, and/or
 - any errors or inaccuracies in the compilation of the index or any constituent data.

2.1.1 FTSE is the benchmark administrator of the index series.¹

2.1.2 FTSE is responsible for the daily calculation, production and operation of the FTSE Fixed Income Core Infrastructure Index Series and will:

Any proposals for significant amendments to these Ground Rules will be subject to consultation with FTSE Russell advisory committees and other stakeholders if appropriate. The feedback from these consultations will be considered by the FTSE Russell Index Governance Board before approval is granted.

2.2.2 As provided for in the Statement of Principles for FTSE Russell Fixed Income Indices, where FTSE Russell determines that the Ground Rules are silent or do not specifically and unambiguously apply to the subject matter of any decision, any decision shall be based as far as practical on the Statement of Principles. After making any such determination, FTSE Russell shall advise the market of its decision at the earliest opportunity. Any such treatment will not be considered as an exception or change to the Ground Rules, or to set a precedent for future action, but FTSE Russell will consider whether the Ground Rules should subsequently be updated to provide greater clarity.

¹ The term administrator is used in this document in the same sense as it is defined in Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2016 on indices used as benchmarks in financial instruments and financial contracts or to measure the performance of investment funds (the European Benchmark Regulation) and The Benchmarks \(Amendment and Transitional Provision\) \(EU Exit\) Regulations 2019 (the UK Benchmark Regulation). 4.2 The eligible universe is used to determine the universe of securities and issuers for which FTSE Russell and LPX Group will conduct revenue based infrastructure assessment. Based on the eligible universe, LPX Group conducts research to determine the percentage of an issuers revenue derived from infrastructure core activities in accordance with Rule 4.3. The revenue stream for each eligible issuer will be classified to determine the percentage of revenue attributable to infrastructure core activities to each of the three primary infrastructure sectors (transportation, energy and telecommunications). For each issuer the primary infrastructure sector is assigned according to that which makes up the majority of its infrastructure revenue. The resulting issuers will form the list of eligible constituents for each sector.

4.2.1 Where there is not enough publicly available information to undertake such an assessment of revenues as described above, FTSE Russell and LPX Group shall instead implement a fallback assessment using Use-Of-Proceeds analysis. The process mirrors that described above for revenue attribution, but instead documents the attribution of the proceeds for a given issuance and hence is issuance specific – the analysis undertaken determines a given bonds eligibility, but is not sufficient to make eligible any other bonds of the same issuer, without separate analysis.

For further information on the Use of Proceeds Analysis, please see Appendix B.
