

Benchmark Statement

FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family

November 2019
v1.1

This benchmark statement is provided by FTSE International Limited as the administrator of the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family. It is intended to meet the requirements of EU Benchmark Regulation (EU2016/1011) and the supplementary regulatory technical standards.

The benchmark statement should be read in conjunction with the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Ground Rules and other associated policies and methodology documents. Those documents are italicised whenever referenced in this benchmark statement and are included as an appendix to this document. They are also available on the FTSE Russell website (www.ftserussell.com).

References to “BMR” in this benchmark statement refer to Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2016 on indices used as benchmarks in financial instruments and financial contracts or to measure the performance of investment funds.

References to “DR” in this benchmark statement refer to Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2018/1643 of 13 July 2018 supplementing Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 of the European Parliament and of the Council with regard to regulatory technical standards specifying further the contents of, and cases where updates are required to, the benchmark statement to be published by the administrator of a benchmark.

1. General Information
1.1 Date of publication and last update DR 1(1)(a)	The benchmark statement shall state the date of publication of the statement and, where applicable, the date of its last update.	Date of publication First published August 2019 Date of last update November 2019
1.2 Review of benchmark statement BMR27(1)	The administrator shall review and, where necessary, update the benchmark statement for each benchmark or family of benchmarks in the event of any changes to the information to be provided under this Article and at least every two years.	FTSE International Limited is the administrator of the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family. FTSE International Limited will review this benchmark statement regularly (at least once every two years) or whenever there are material changes to the information provided.
1.3 Use of ISIN DR 1(1)(b)	The benchmark statement shall state, where available, the international securities identification number (ISIN) of the benchmark or benchmarks; alternatively, for a family of benchmarks, the statement may provide details of where the ISINs are publicly accessible free of charge.	FTSE International Limited does not currently assign ISINs to all of the indexes for which it is the administrator. Where ISINs have been assigned they can be found in the ISIN Codes for FTSE Russell Indexes document.
1.4 Contributions of input data DR 1(1)(c)	The benchmark statement shall state whether the benchmark, or any benchmark in the family of benchmarks is determined using contributions of input data.	The FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family does not use contributions of input data. Refer to 2.7 for further detail on input data.
1.5 Regulated-data benchmark disclosures DR 1(d) DR 2	Specific disclosure requirements for regulated-data benchmarks. The benchmark statement shall state whether the benchmark or any benchmark in the family of benchmarks qualifies as a regulated-data benchmark including the specific provision by which the benchmark qualifies as that type, as listed under Title III of BMR In addition to the information to be included pursuant to Article 1, for a regulated-data benchmark or, where applicable, family of regulated-data benchmarks, the benchmark	The FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family is not a regulated-data benchmark. Some constituent prices are sourced from venues other than those specified in Article (3)(24)(a) point 1. In addition WM/Reuters 4pm London foreign exchange rates are used in the calculation of certain benchmarks in the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series, these are not sourced from the entities specified in Article (3)(24).

Ref	Regulatory requirement	FTSE International Limited's Response
	statement shall state at least the following in its description of the input data: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) indicate the benchmark's qualification as a regulated-data benchmark; (b) the source of the input data used; and (c) for each source, the relevant type, as listed in Article 3(1)(24) of Regulation (EU) 2016/1011.
1.6 Significant and non-significant benchmarks disclosure DR 1(d)	Specific disclosure requirements for significant and non-significant benchmarks: The benchmark statement shall state whether the benchmark or any benchmark in the family of benchmarks qualifies as a significant or non-significant benchmark including the specific provision by which the benchmark qualifies as that type, as listed under Title III of BMR.	The FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family includes only non-significant benchmarks according to point 27 of Article 3(1) of Regulation (EU) 2016/1011.

2. Content
2.1 Market reality BMR27(1)(a)	The benchmark statement shall clearly and unambiguously define the market or economic reality measured by the benchmark and the circumstances in which such measurement may become unreliable.	The FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family is designed to deliver defined levels of active index exposure to risk factors, industries, countries and sustainability characteristics. The eligibility criteria for constituents are set out in the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Ground Rules. The constituents of each index within the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family are drawn from the constituents of the corresponding underlying index as defined in the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Ground Rules ('the underlying indexes'). The base currency of the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family is US dollars. The indexes within the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family include benchmarks that measure the performance of various market segments. The benchmarks include (examples in brackets): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • benchmarks for different regions (FTSE Developed Europe); Benchmarks may also be calculated using different calculation rules. Examples include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • benchmarks calculated on a price (capitalisation) only basis, excluding dividends; • benchmarks calculated on a total return basis (based on ex dividend adjustments). Details of the calculation methodologies employed are set out in the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Ground Rules. The FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family uses as input data official closing prices sourced via vendors from the eligible stock exchanges. The measurement of the underlying economic reality might become unreliable if one or more of the eligible stock exchanges ceased to operate but the constituent securities continued to trade elsewhere, either over-the-counter or on other venues.
2.2 Use of discretion BMR27(1)(b)	The benchmark statement shall lay down technical specifications that clearly and unambiguously identify the elements of the calculation of the benchmark in relation to which discretion may be exercised, the criteria applicable to the exercise of such discretion and the position of the persons that can exercise discretion, and how such discretion may be subsequently evaluated.	The Ground Rules, policies and methodology documents listed in the appendix underpin the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family and are written with the intent of removing the need for judgement or discretion to be exercised in so far as is feasible. In circumstances where a known future event is not captured by the methodology documents, or where a decision to recalculate or correct an index calculation issue is not clear, the Exercise of Expert Judgement in FTSE Russell Indexes policy sets out the procedures that will be followed to determine the appropriate index treatment. This treatment will be consistently applied to the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family and all other affected indexes in line with the policies in the appendix.
2.3 External factors BMR27(1)(c)	The benchmark statement shall provide notice of the possibility that factors, including external	FTSE International Limited hereby provides notice to users of the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family that it is possible that circumstances, including external events beyond factors beyond the control of the administrator, may necessitate changes to, or the cessation of, the benchmark.	the control of FTSE International Limited, may necessitate changes to, or cessation of, the index series family. Further information about such factors is detailed in the Index Series Decommissioning Statement .

2.4 Changes to/ cessation of benchmark BMR27(1)(d)	The benchmark statement shall advise users that changes to, or the cessation of, the benchmark may have an impact upon the financial contracts and financial instruments that reference the benchmark or the measurement of the performance of investment funds.	Any financial contracts or other financial instruments that reference the index series family or investment funds which use the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family to measure their performance should be able to withstand, or otherwise address the possibility of changes to, or cessation of, the index series family.
2.5 Definitions of key terms BMR27(2)(a) DR 1(2)	A benchmark statement shall contain at least the definitions for all key terms relating to the benchmark. <hr/> In defining the market or economic reality, the benchmark statement shall contain at least the following information: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) a general description of the market or economic reality; (b) the geographical boundaries, if any, of the measured market or economic reality; (c) any other information the administrator reasonably considers to be relevant or useful for a benchmark user or potential user to understand the relevant features of the market or economic reality. Subject to the availability of reliable data, the administrator shall consider including, at least: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (1) information on actual or potential participants in the market; (2) an indication of the size of the market or economic reality. 	The definitions of all key terms relating to the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family can be found in the Glossary of Terms used in FTSE Russell Equity Methodology Documents. (a) Description of market/ economic reality Refer to 2.1. (b) Geographical boundaries The geographical boundaries of the market measured by the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family are determined by the eligibility criteria for the indexes within the family as set out in the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Ground Rules. (c) Any other relevant information Not applicable to this index series family (family of benchmarks that consists solely of non-significant benchmarks).

2.6 Benchmark methodology BMR27(2)(b)	A benchmark statement shall contain at least the rationale for adopting the benchmark methodology and procedures for the review and approval of the methodology.	The FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Ground Rules reflect the economic reality the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family was intended to measure as set out in response 2.1 above.
Changes & cessation to benchmark methodology DR 1(5)	In specifying the procedures for review of the methodology, the benchmark statement shall at least outline the procedures for public consultation on any material changes to the methodology.	The approval of all new FTSE Russell indexes follows the governance process set out in the Governance Framework document. The FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Ground Rules are subject to regular review by FTSE International Limited, via its governance process, to ensure that they continue to best reflect the aims of the index series.
2.7 Input data BMR27(2)(c)	A benchmark statement shall contain at least the criteria and procedures used to determine the benchmark, including a description of the input data, the priority given to different types of input data, the minimum data needed to determine a benchmark, the use of any models or methods of extrapolation and any procedure for rebalancing the constituents of a benchmark's index.	Input data for the index series family consists of official closing prices and foreign exchange rates sourced via vendors from the eligible stock exchanges as set out in the Closing Prices Used for Index Calculation guide and foreign exchange rates (the WM/Reuters London 4pm Closing Spot Rates). FTSE International considers the input data to be readily available data. The criteria and procedures used to determine and rebalance the benchmarks within the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family can be found in the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Ground Rules . Supplementary information can be found in the documents provided in the appendix to this benchmark statement. Exchange rates sourced from WM/Reuters also constitute input data as confirmed by the ESMA Questions and Answers On the Benchmarks Regulation published on 18 December 2018.
2.8 Controls over exercise of judgement/ discretion BMR27(2)(d)	A benchmark statement shall contain at least the controls and rules that govern any exercise of judgement or discretion by the administrator or any contributors, to ensure consistency in the use of such judgement or discretion.	The circumstances in which judgement and/or discretion may be exercised are set out in response 2.2 above. The Exercise of Expert Judgement in FTSE Russell Indexes policy provides for the Index Policy team to exercise expert judgement in certain circumstances and sets out the conditions in which clients and other affected stakeholders may be consulted. The policy further sets out the requirements to keep records of the exercise of expert judgement, and for the instances of such exercise to be reviewed and, if appropriate, for those instances to be reported to the FTSE Russell Product Governance Board.
RTS 1(4)	In specifying the controls and rules that govern any exercise of judgement or discretion by the administrator or any contributors in calculating the benchmark or benchmarks, the benchmark statement shall include an outline of each step of the process for any ex post evaluation of the use of discretion, together with a clear indication of the position of any person(s) responsible for carrying out the evaluations.

2.9 Determination of the benchmark in stress periods BMR27(2)(e)	A benchmark statement shall contain at least the procedures which govern the determination of the benchmark in periods of stress or periods where transaction data sources may be insufficient, inaccurate or unreliable and the potential limitations of the benchmark in such periods.	External events can on occasion make it difficult for investors to trade securities on certain markets. Such events include: the temporary closure of a stock exchange; government, central bank or monetary authority imposed restrictions on the repatriation of foreign capital; and the imposition of sanctions preventing new investment in a country. In such circumstances, FTSE International Limited will follow the index policies below: Index Policy in the Event Clients are Unable to Trade a Market; Index Policy for Trading Halts and Market Closures. These policies set out the contingency prices that will be used for affected constituents in such circumstances; these are generally the official closing price published by the exchange as set out in the Closing Prices Used for Index Calculation guide. In certain circumstances, these will default to the last traded price. If those constituents continue to trade on venues that are not eligible for use by the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family, or if they trade over-the-counter, the benchmark may cease to provide an accurate representation of the underlying economic reality.
2.10 Errors in input data BMR(27)(2)(f)	A benchmark statement shall contain at least the procedures for dealing with errors in input data or in the determination of the benchmark, including when a re-determination of the benchmark is required.	The FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family is recalculated whenever errors or distortions occur that are deemed to be significant. Further details can be found in the Recalculation Policy and Guidelines – Equity Indexes . Users of the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family are notified of any decisions to recalculate and/or restate an index through appropriate media.
2.11 Potential limitations BMR(27)(2)(g)	A benchmark statement shall contain at least the identification of potential limitations of the benchmark, including its operation in illiquid or fragmented markets and the possible concentration of inputs.	The potential limitations of the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family include circumstances where a significant proportion of the closing prices of constituents of the benchmarks are unavailable, for example because a contributing stock exchange experiences an unexpected outage or closure, or an eligible market imposes restrictions on the repatriation of capital, or an eligible market is subject to sanctions from the USA or the European Union.
DR 1(3)	In defining the potential limitations of the benchmark and the circumstances in which the measurement of the relevant market or economic reality may become unreliable, the benchmark statement shall include at least: (a) a description of the circumstances in which the administrator would lack sufficient input data to determine the benchmark according to the methodology; (b) where relevant, a description of instances when the accuracy and reliability of the methodology used for determining the benchmark can no longer be ensured, such as when the administrator deems the	(a) and (b) For the purposes of determining the benchmarks within the FTSE Target Exposure Index Series Family, the methodology specifies that the exchange official closing prices of the affected constituents will be used. In certain circumstances, these will default to the last traded price. This ensures that the benchmarks can continue to be determined and that the values and pay-offs of financial contracts and financial instruments that reference the benchmark can continue to be calculated. However, if the affected constituents continue to trade over-the-counter or on other venues, the benchmarks may cease to provide an accurate representation of the underlying economic reality. (c) Not applicable to this index series family (family of benchmarks that consists solely of non-significant benchmarks).

- liquidity in the underlying market as insufficient;
- (c) Any other information that the administrator reasonably considers to be relevant or useful to help users and potential users to understand the circumstances in which the measurement of the market or economic reality may become unreliable, including a description of what might constitute an exceptional market events.

3. Review and update of benchmark statements

3.1 Review and update of benchmark statement DR 6	An update of the benchmark statement shall be required whenever the information contained in the statement ceases to be correct or sufficiently precise and including in any event in the following cases: (a) Whenever there is a change in the type of the benchmark; (b) Whenever there is a material change in the methodology used for determining the benchmark or, if the benchmark statement is for a family of benchmarks, in the methodology used for determining any benchmark within the family of benchmarks.	This benchmark statement is subject to regular review (at least once every two years) or whenever there are material changes to the methodology by FTSE International Limited to ensure that the benchmark statement is correct, sufficiently precise.
