

Russell US Indexes: IPO Add – Envista Holdings

29 November 2019

---

Please note that Envista Holdings (NVST) is a projected IPO addition to the Russell US indexes (Russell 1000, Russell 2500, Russell Mid Cap, and Russell Small Cap Completeness) at the December review, per the earlier announcement communicating December's quarterly additions to the Russell US indexes. Please note that the company is involved in a corporate event with a current index constituent (Danaher Corp (DHR); Russell 1000, Russell Top 200, Growth, Value, and Defensive) which may result in Envista Holdings being added to its respective indexes prior to the review effective date in accordance with the shares issued during the corporate event - with a subsequent increase in shares in conjunction with the review to include the IPO shares. The corporate event is expected to complete in the week prior to the review effective date and therefore the shares included on the index review effective date will be updated accordingly, upon finalization of the corporate event.

Please refer to the Corporate Action Calendar for additional details regarding the corporate event, if required.
